

Innovative Introduction to Sustainable Development

Dr. Jon-Erik Dahlin

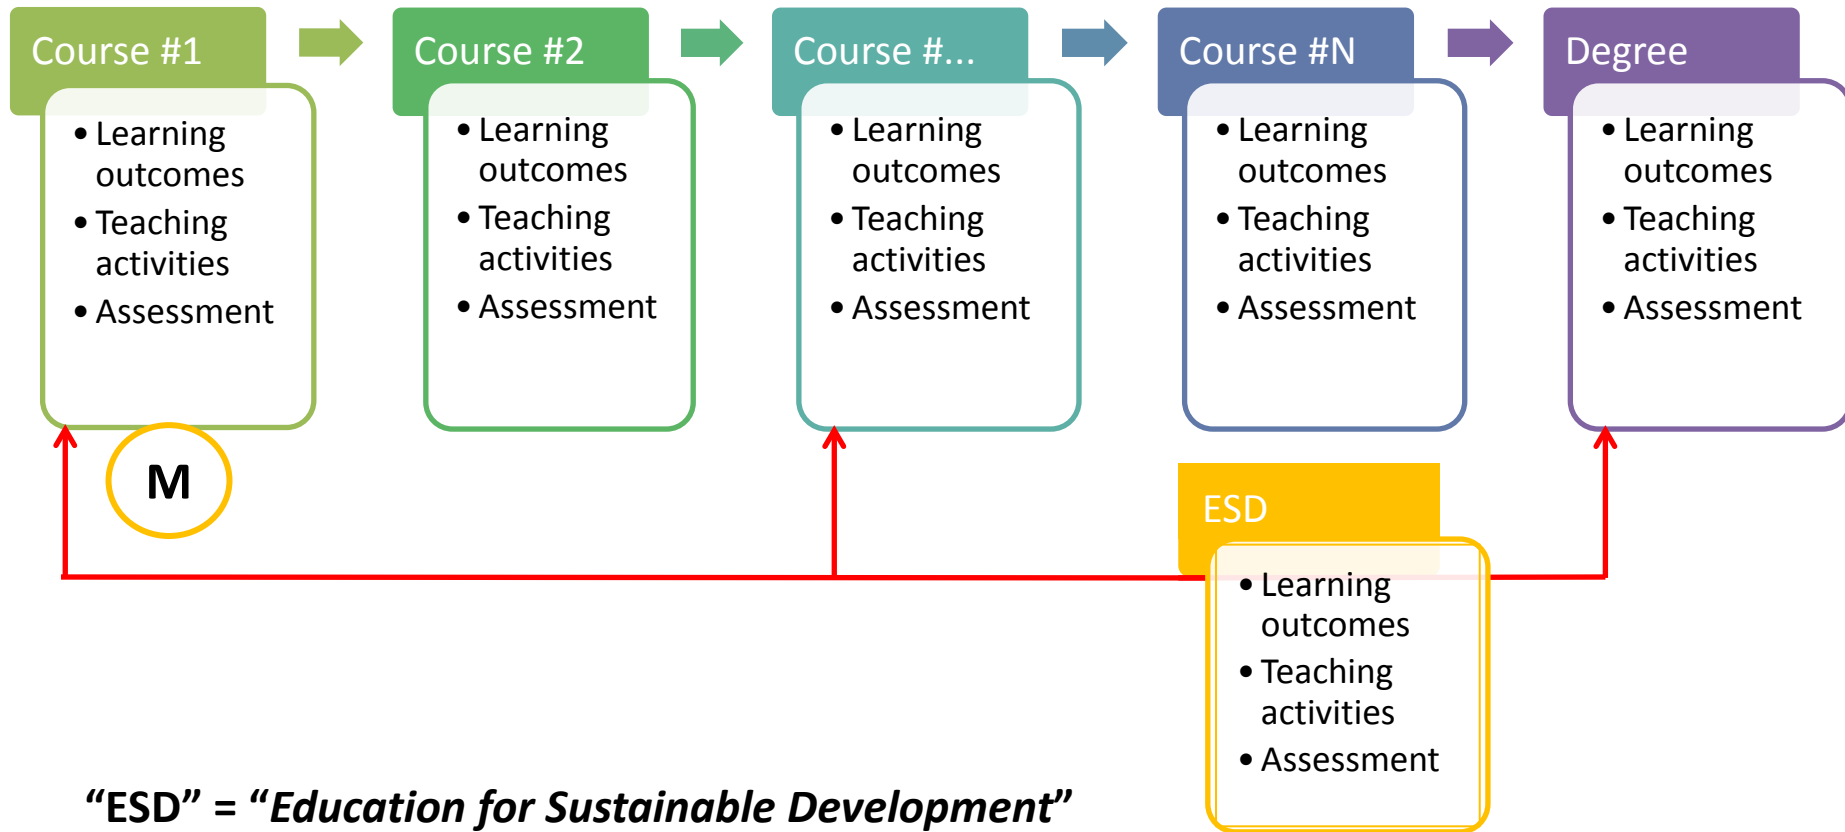

<http://www.jonerikdahlin.com/>

Innovative Introduction to Sustainable Development

The Basic Idea...

Degree Programme:

“ESD” = “Education for Sustainable Development”

Education for Sustainable Development (BRDI):

From a programme perspective:

- Background, facts about sustainability
- Reflection, individual critical thinking
- Discussion, group interaction
- Integration, sustainability in the profession

Several courses may take responsibility for different parts of the overall sustainability curriculum of the programme

*ESD could be introduced in the form of new courses, integrated course modules, or as integrated content

Innovative Introduction to Sustainable Development

---

Course Module (BRD):

Introduction to Sustainable Development (1,5 hp)

Now introduced in various programmes, 600-800 students/year

M

Lecture I: introduction, dynamic systems & challenges

Seminar: Fish Banks

Written assignment (ind)

Seminar: Dilemma I

Written assignment (group)

Seminar: Dilemma II

Written assignment (group)

Lecture: relating to engineering, technology & society

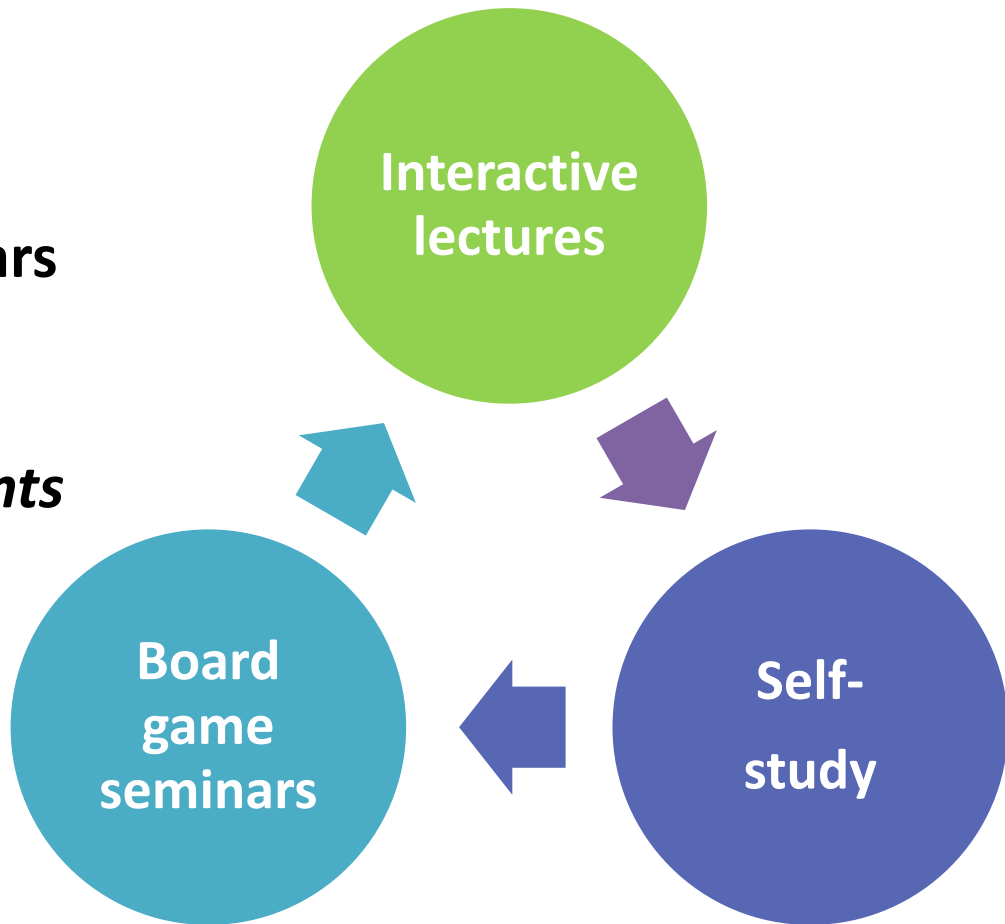

Computerised test

How to teach reflection and discussion?

Learning activities:

- Interactive lectures
- Board game seminars
- Self-study

*We do not teach students
how to think,
but to think independently*

Innovative Introduction to Sustainable Development

---

Self-studies/literature:

- ”Hållbar Utveckling – en introduktion för ingenjörer” (Jon-Erik Dahlin)
Eng. ”Sustainable Development – an Introduction for Engineers”
- References to papers and reports
- Preparation for seminars

Innovative Introduction to Sustainable Development

Board game seminars:

- Dilemma (Jon-Erik Dahlin)
- Fish Banks (Dennis Meadows)

Jon-Erik Dahlin

<http://www.jonerikdahlin.com/>

Thank you for your attention!

<http://www.jonerikdahlin.com/>