Weekly planning of hydropower in systems with large volumes varying power generation

Objectives:

- This project aims at developing efficient methods to plan the coordination between wind and hydro power in a power system.
- The main task is to create suitable optimization models for hydropower production on a weekly basis.