

Seminar 1 – Commercial Art?

The Danish student Nadia Plesner made the boy with handbag/dog in 2008, which she printed on t-shirts and posters, and sold them to benefit for the children in Darfur. It was a little hungry boy holding a handbag resembling one made by Louis Vuitton. Louis Vuitton then sued her.

And this painting “Darfurnica” Nadia Plesner did in 2010.

At the seminar we will discuss copyright and trademarks issues relating to the boy-picture and the painting. Search on the internet about the disputes between Nadia Plesner and Louis Vuitton as preparation for the discussion.
