Competent Engineer with knowledge in bio materials and marketing

I am a creative engineer with skills and competence within both the med tech and marketing field who really enjoys when many things are going on at the same time. After talking to Anders Persson I understood that Pacemaker is a company which is growing very fast, especially in my areas of interest, implants and bio materials. Accordingly, I would very much like to contribute to the company's future development and be part of the sales and marketing of pacemakers. Your international business activity appeals to me as well, since I really would like to work abroad within the next few years.

The goal with my education at KTH has been to be able to work with sales and marketing of products and services within med tech. The position as a marketing manager has got just the right combination of technology and marketing that I'm looking for.

I would really like to work with products which contribute to people's wellbeing and health. Right now I am doing my thesis work at the Medical Company which gives me the practical experience from working in the medical industry. I find it really interesting and I really enjoy it. As a person I am outgoing, something which I have shown through extracurricular activities such as being responsible for the reception of new students and through different jobs in the travelling industry. I am also a creative person who likes to work with different assignments. To connect to people and maintain contacts is also something which I find stimulating. I have always been drawn customer oriented jobs.

On my spare time I play the guitar together with some friends in a band. I try to be outdoors in the nature as often as possible and I love skiing and mountain biking.

I look forward to meet you for an interview.

Best regards

Anna Andersson
