

AI1518 Real Estate Development Legislation 7.5 credits

Fastighetsutveckling och regelsystem

This is a translation of the Swedish, legally binding, course syllabus.

If the course is discontinued, students may request to be examined during the following two academic years

Establishment

Course syllabus for AI1518 valid from Autumn 2017

Grading scale

A, B, C, D, E, FX, F

Education cycle

First cycle

Main field of study

Technology

Specific prerequisites

Legal Framework of the Built Environment (AI1525) or equivalent.

Language of instruction

The language of instruction is specified in the course offering information in the course catalogue.

Intended learning outcomes

The overall objective of the course is to provide knowledge of the property legal regimes that underpin the development and change of land use, real estate and land-related rights, as well as on how the interaction of different types of infrastructure can be organized

More specifically, after reading this course student shall be able to:

- Identify and evaluate different technical legal solutions to solve practical problems related to land use, land subdivision and land-related rights
- Identify and evaluate different technical and legal solutions for organizing collaboration between multiple properties or individuals for various types of small-scale infrastructure- describe the main features of ownership and entitlement system for land and property that is relevant to real estate development
- Describe the main features of the infrastructure legislation on roads, railways and power lines, and explain how the acquisition and granting of land rights for these facilities takes place.
- Apply relevant legislation in simpler situations related to change in land use, property division and land-related rights
- Reflect on the importance of a functioning legal system, property rights and property division to meet the needs of society for a long term and sustainable land use.

Course contents

The course covers the technology surrounding the design and alteration of buildings and building systems. The property -land with associated buildings and equipment - is of fundamental importance in the community, acting as a legally well-defined and limited geographical concepts. Legislation in the area intended to ensure adherence both long-term and flexibility in terms of land use, land transfers and leases of land and land-related rights. Real estate serves as collateral for loans and therefore also a key part of the economy. The course covers the importance of and the relationship between property division, land-related rights, and sustainable land use.

Course literature

Julstad, B. Fastighetsindelning och markanvändning, latest edition. (Norstedts Juridik).
Other literature to be announced when course starts.

Examination

- TEN2 - Exam, 5.0 credits, grading scale: A, B, C, D, E, FX, F
- ÖVN2 - Exercise, 2.5 credits, grading scale: P, F

Based on recommendation from KTH's coordinator for disabilities, the examiner will decide how to adapt an examination for students with documented disability.

The examiner may apply another examination format when re-examining individual students.

Ethical approach

- All members of a group are responsible for the group's work.
- In any assessment, every student shall honestly disclose any help received and sources used.
- In an oral assessment, every student shall be able to present and answer questions about the entire assignment and solution.