Language of instruction

The language of instruction is specified in the course offering information in the course catalogue.

Intended learning outcomes

The general aim of the course is to give advanced knowledge of the legal regulations of such rights of use of solid property that are based on contracts or other legal acts, particularly rent, tenant-owner flat and lease. After having completed the course the students should be able to:

- Explain the structure of and central concepts in the regulatory system governing these rights, the main issues that are regulated and how these issues are regulated.
- By means of the legal method apply the legal rules on practical application assignments concerning rent, tenant-owner flat and lease also on more complex application assignments.
- Explain the choice of and the applicability of the legal rules on the application assignments.

Course contents

The course starts with a section that treats the division into different rights of use to solid property (including buildings on leased land) and what characterizes such rights. After the initial section, the course is divided into three parts that treat rent, tenant-owner flat and lease. In the section on rent, the rules in chapter 12 of jordabalken (the Swedish Land Code) are covered, as well as hyresförhandlingslagen (law on rent negotiation) and to a certain extent the rules relating to property law in the 7th, 17th and 18th chapters of jordabalken and the law on tenancy tribunals and rent tribunals. Concerning tenant-owner flats, the law on this particular topic (bostadsrättslagen) is in focus, but tenures over the tenant-owner flat, such as sale and pawning, are also treated, as well as seizure of tenant-owner flats and reorganisation from tenancy right to tenant-owner flat. In the course section on lease, the rules in 8-11 chapters of jordabalken are treated, and to a certain extent the property law related rules in chapters 7, 17 and 18 of jordabalken.
