

AK124V Transition: Pathways to a Fossil-free Society 4.0 credits

Omställning: Vägar till ett fossilfritt samhälle

This is a translation of the Swedish, legally binding, course syllabus.

If the course is discontinued, students may request to be examined during the following two academic years

Establishment

On 17 August 2021, the Dean of the ABE school has decided to establish this official course syllabus to apply from spring term 2022, registration number: A-2021-1425.

Grading scale

P, F

Education cycle

First cycle

Main field of study

Technology

Specific prerequisites

None

Language of instruction

The language of instruction is specified in the course offering information in the course catalogue.

Intended learning outcomes

After passing the course, the student should be able to:

- - Give an account of Sweden's and a few other countries' climate goals, how these have changed over time and the debate that form the basis for them.
- - Critically review different visions to achieve the climate goals.
- - Compare the institutional frameworks, policies and instruments of different countries that have been created/mobilised to achieve the goals.

Course contents

This course highlights the adaptation as a social assignment and phenomenon. It focuses on Sweden's and other countries' climate goals, how these have emerged and changed over time and the attempts to implement the goals in practice.

Examination

- INL1 - Assignment work, 4.0 credits, grading scale: P, F

Based on recommendation from KTH's coordinator for disabilities, the examiner will decide how to adapt an examination for students with documented disability.

The examiner may apply another examination format when re-examining individual students.

Ethical approach

- All members of a group are responsible for the group's work.
- In any assessment, every student shall honestly disclose any help received and sources used.
- In an oral assessment, every student shall be able to present and answer questions about the entire assignment and solution.