Establishment

Course syllabus for DD1390 valid from Spring 2019

Grading scale

A, B, C, D, E, FX, F

Education cycle

First cycle

Main field of study

Computer Science and Engineering, Technology

Specific prerequisites

Language of instruction

The language of instruction is specified in the course offering information in the course catalogue.

Intended learning outcomes

On completion of the course, the students should be able to:

- use programme and course syllabuses, intended learning outcomes and grading criteria to plan their studies in both short and long term,
- plan and perform tasks within stipulated time,
- make well motivated specialization and course selections,
- critically analyze and reflect on the structure and performance of the programme and their own study achievements,
- follow the main thread of the programme and the progression of both subject knowledge and generic skills, in relation to the programme objectives and the future professional role,
- identify the need of additional knowledge and continuously develop their competence,
- analyze and evaluate social and ethical consequences of computer applications,
- describe some important historic events in computer science,
- find a relevant question formulation to a historic material,
- perform a bounded computer science historic study and present it orally and in writing in order to
- get an overview of the education and thereby get an improved understanding of the importance of every single course,
- make informed choices, both during their studies and afterwards,
- influence the development of the programme.
