Intended learning outcomes

After passing this course you will be able to solve a design, implementation or investigative task with limited supervision, and to report the result of such a task. More precisely, you will be able to:

- plan, carry through and report such a task in Media Technology,
- obtain and evaluate information applicable for carrying out the task,
- choose a course of approach and define, follow and follow up a plan for carrying out the task in a given resource budget (7,5 hp),
- report your results orally and in writing, professionally,
- show increased knowledge in an area of Media Technology.

Course contents

Through this course students with a special interest area within the field of Media Technology can perform studies that have been individually defined for the specific student to fit his/her interests. Course contents and examination will be individually defined for each student. Students interested in taking the course are asked to either the examiner, or another teacher and thereafter the examiner. The course can only be offered the department has sufficient resources and competence within the special interest area.

No instruction is given on this course.

Examination

- INL1 - Report, 7.5 credits, grading scale: P, F

Based on recommendation from KTH's coordinator for disabilities, the examiner will decide how to adapt an examination for students with documented disability.

The examiner may apply another examination format when re-examining individual students.

If the course is discontinued, students may request to be examined during the following two academic years.

Other requirements for final grade

Since this is an individually formed course the examination will vary. The course is reported as exercises (INL1; 7,5 hp).
