Main field of study

Specific prerequisites

Depends on course content.

Language of instruction

The language of instruction is specified in the course offering information in the course catalogue.

Intended learning outcomes

The student should after the course be able to realize a practical/theoretical project within music communication and report the result. It implies that the student should be able to:

- independently plan, execute and present a theoretical or practical task within music communication
- collect and rate relevant information for the task
- chose a method and make a planning for the solving of the task within given resources
- write a legible report in English or Swedish within established norms regarding structure, language, and content
- orally present the work in a similar way
- show increased knowledge within a specific area of music communication.

Course contents

The course implies that students with a special interest within music communication can follow an individually designed course within their own area of interest. Course content and examination is individually determined for each student. Interested students contact the course responsible. The course is given only if resources and competence can be found for the specific study area.

Course literature

Depends on course content.

Examination

- INL1 - Assignment, 6.0 credits, grading scale: P, F

Based on recommendation from KTH's coordinator for disabilities, the examiner will decide how to adapt an examination for students with documented disability.

The examiner may apply another examination format when re-examining individual students.

If the course is discontinued, students may request to be examined during the following two academic years.

In this course all the regulations of the code of honor at the School of Computer science and Communication apply, see: http://www.kth.se/csc/student/hederskodex/1.17237?l=en_UK.

Other requirements for final grade

Since this is an individually designed course, the examination can vary. A final written report is the minimum requirement. The course will be reported as the assignment (INL1; 6 cr)

Ethical approach

- All members of a group are responsible for the group's work.
- In any assessment, every student shall honestly disclose any help received and sources used.
- In an oral assessment, every student shall be able to present and answer questions about the entire assignment and solution.
