Education cycle

Third cycle

Specific prerequisites

The course is given for PhD students.

Language of instruction

The language of instruction is specified in the course offering information in the course catalogue.

Intended learning outcomes

The aims of this course are that the student should have acquired basic insights on the special demands on presentations for a general audience, and also have applied these insights in a text in her or his own field of science.

Course contents

The course consists of lectures, group exercises and individual supervision. The lectures focus on the special demands on presentations for a general audience.

Course literature

A list will be provided when the course starts.

Examination

Based on recommendation from KTH's coordinator for disabilities, the examiner will decide how to adapt an examination for students with documented disability.

The examiner may apply another examination format when re-examining individual students.

Other requirements for final grade

For passing, active participation in the course and an approved text for a popular audience are required.

Ethical approach

- All members of a group are responsible for the group's work.
- In any assessment, every student shall honestly disclose any help received and sources used.
- In an oral assessment, every student shall be able to present and answer questions about the entire assignment and solution.
