The study course(s) which is/are closest to the content of the thesis must be finished.

Language of instruction

The language of instruction is specified in the course offering information in the course catalogue.

Intended learning outcomes

The aim is to give the participant a chance to show how well he/she has learned and applies the content of the degree of master programme. Particularly the methodology of a proper investigation using scientific methods must be demonstrated to pass and get a high grade.

- A scope statement
- A thorough description of the methodology used in the thesis
- A distinct "research" question to be aswered
- A description of the field work
- A discussion about the findings or observations reflected in existing knowledge or models
- Conslusions
- Hor to proceed/recommendations for the future

Course contents

It is important that the content of the degree project is within the scope of the programme. Also important is that the study course(s) which covers the content of the thesis must be finished and passed before the thesis can be approved or even started. One part of the degree project is to make a professional presentation of the work and it is part of the basis for grading.

Course literature

Examination

- PRO1 - Project, 3.0 credits, grading scale: P, F
- TEN1 - Examination, 4.5 credits, grading scale: A, B, C, D, E, FX, F

Based on recommendation from KTH's coordinator for disabilities, the examiner will decide how to adapt an examination for students with documented disability.

The examiner may apply another examination format when re-examining individual students.

If the course is discontinued, students may request to be examined during the following two academic years.

The written material must be passed by the examiner and a presentation which is part of the basis for grading the thesis must be performed, with the academic supervisor and/or the examiner present.

Ethical approach

- All members of a group are responsible for the group's work.
- In any assessment, every student shall honestly disclose any help received and sources used.
- In an oral assessment, every student shall be able to present and answer questions about the entire assignment and solution.
