Language of instruction

The language of instruction is specified in the course offering information in the course catalogue.

Intended learning outcomes

The aim of the course is to prepare the student for the future professional role. After the course, the student should be able to

- utilise tools to build networks and find appropriate works/tasks for thesis projects
- to write an application letter and a CV and to build an E-portfolio.

Course contents

The course includes self assessment, advice to write CV, application letters, and to build an E-portfolio as well as creation of these with the aim that these should be possible to use when the student searches for tasks for thesis projects and employment.

Course literature

Compendiums and compilations of open sources online.

Examination

- UPP1 - Task, 1.5 credits, grading scale: P, F

Based on recommendation from KTH's coordinator for disabilities, the examiner will decide how to adapt an examination for students with documented disability.

The examiner may apply another examination format when re-examining individual students.

Self assessment, CV and application letter, as well as an E-portfolio.

Ethical approach

- All members of a group are responsible for the group's work.
- In any assessment, every student shall honestly disclose any help received and sources used.
- In an oral assessment, every student shall be able to present and answer questions about the entire assignment and solution.
