On completion of the course, the student, in addition to what is evident from courses at the lower level, should be able to:

- use the language orally and in writing in everyday situations and simple work situations (A2)
- understand and distinguish the main contents in clear standard spoken French about well-known subject areas (A2/B1)
- identify and account in Swedish for facts from authentic technology-related texts.
- hold a short individually-prepared presentation in the target language (A2/B1)
- account for more important realia about French-speaking countries and seek information related to their history, societies, geography, culture and technical development.

Course contents

Exercises to understand spoken French and conduct conversations. Practical pronunciation and intonation exercises. Reading comprehension of texts of general and technical content. Grammar and vocabulary exercises. Written exercises. Realia elements on the culture of French-speaking countries, societies and technical development.
