Language of instruction

The language of instruction is specified in the course offering information in the course catalogue.

Intended learning outcomes

On completion of the course, the student should be able to:

1. Engage in dialogue in everyday situations and simple work situations
2. Understand and distinguish the main contents in clear standard speech about familiar subjects
3. Identify, and explain in Swedish, facts from simple authentic Spanish texts with technical content
4. Give a short presentation on an engineering-related topic

Course contents

The course offers repetition and strengthening of basic Spanish skills, with a focus on reading and listening comprehension and oral communication in both everyday and professional situations. Topics such as sustainability issues are also covered. The course aims to develop a positive and confident attitude towards language learning.

The course also addresses intercultural aspects, including academic culture and work culture, to prepare students for effective communication and work in international environments.

Examination

- LEXA - Continuous assessment, 7.5 credits, grading scale: P, F

Based on recommendation from KTH's coordinator for disabilities, the examiner will decide how to adapt an examination for students with documented disability.

The examiner may apply another examination format when re-examining individual students.

If the course is discontinued, students may request to be examined during the following two academic years.

Based on the recommendation from the KTH office of support to students with disabilities, the examiner has the right to decide on any adapted forms of examination for students with a documented, permanent disability.

For re-examinations, the examiner has the right to allow other forms of examination for individual students.

Other requirements for final grade

All examination modules passed.

75% attendance.

Ethical approach
